Your community's floodplain administrator and other local officials involved in the review and approval of proposed development are strongly encouraged to attend. Examples of appropriate officials are those involved with zoning administration, zoning appeals, building permits, improvement location permits, planning, surveying, emergency management, septic permits, building inspection, engineering, community development, etc.

These workshops are provided at no charge. Those wishing to attend a workshop should register so we can have ample materials and refreshments. However, seating may be limited at some sites, so please register early.

Please contact Anita Nance of the Floodplain Management Section to register for a workshop. Maps and/or driving directions for the workshops are also available upon request.
